"Danny Godinez will quickly get your attention with his acoustic guitar. He was smooth and fast. It was obvious that he 'becomes one' with his guitar. When a guy uses harmonics, slaps his strings, picks with precision and speed, and masterfully bends his guitar neck to get just the perfect sound, you know that you are getting more than just music. You are getting the man's soul. When he adds smooth singing and even mimics his guitar licks with his vocals, you are getting soul and art."
